

The NVTC Veterans Employment Initiative Scholars Summer 2017 Internship Program

Launch a Student Veteran's next career. Be a driving force in shaping the professional development needed for a successful transition.

The NVTC Foundation's Veterans Employment Initiative (VEI) is prepping for the second season of the VEI Scholars Summer Internship Program. This program provides student Veterans from our 14 NVTC member colleges and universities with professional mentoring and meaningful work-based experiences at NVTC member companies that will directly enhance their career readiness by adding resume-building activity in their fields of endeavor. Through this program, the post-secondary institutions are partnering with the VEI to identify student Veterans in a variety of educational programs, such as business and project management, engineering, applied skills, data analytics, cybersecurity, IT, software development and health care.

Participating NVTC member companies will identify their skillset needs and submit their internships to the VEI job board at: www.novatechvets.org. The internships will be communicated to the student Veteran managers and career development specialists at the institutions to facilitate a match with a student Veteran for a May-August 2017 paid internship.

Please contact VEI Program Manager Steve Jordon at sjordon@nvtc.org or (703) 268-5145 for questions or additional information.
