

Rob Hepler
Director, IBX Operation
Equinix, Inc.

Rob Hepler serves as the Director of Operations in the Mid-Atlantic Region for Equinix. He is responsible for the management and operations of six IBX's located from Philadelphia to Ashburn totaling over 500,000 gross square feet of space. His responsibilities also include the new 44 acre campus that opened in Ashburn in 2017 which will include four additional IBX's and up to another 750,000 square feet of space.

Rob has over 20 years of experience in the mission critical space. Before joining Equinix he was the Senior Manager of Operations for Switch and Data working out of the Reston office. Prior to that, he served as the Network Manager for Clark Construction in Bethesda, MD.

Rob is a Certified Data Center Professional through the Institute for Data Center Professionals program at Marist College located in Poughkeepsie, New York.