CFN Services, Inc. - CFN Services is a custom managed telecom infrastructure services company providing network services for the Enterprise, Public Sector, Carrier and Wireless Markets, specializing in ultra-low latency networking, middle mile and last mile optimization, and wireless backhaul.

CustomInk.com - CustomInk is an innovative ecommerce company that enables people to design & order custom decorated t-shirts and other products online for their groups and occasions. Clients range from student groups, bands, and small businesses to charity walks, family reunions, and more.

ODIN Technologies – ODIN Technologies provides complete RFID solutions so businesses can track their inventory, see their assets in real time, and secure critical items. Their automated system based on an open international standard (ISO 18000-6C) allows businesses to “Google their stuff” and see where it is and how many they have. The reason ODIN has succeeded where other RFID companies have faltered is their unique combination of software and engineered hardware. They are applying Apple’s model of combining hardware, software all in an easy to use and elegant solution to the B2B marketplace.

PointAbout - PointAbout is changing the economics behind the world of mobile applications. PointAbout’s AppMakr web service is doing for mobile what YouTube did for video: Allowing anyone to quickly and easily publish content through a new distribution channel with an enormous reach. AppMakr allows both individuals and companies to quickly mobilize the content they’re already publishing, such as RSS & XML feeds, APIs and HTML content. Our AppMakr web service builds native mobile applications in minutes instead of months, across multiple phone platforms without any ramp-up time and no need for proprietary programming expertise.

Hottest Social Buzz Finalists

LivingSocial - LivingSocial works with merchants to feature a deal every day that allows users to save 50-70% on average at the hottest local restaurants, spas, fitness centers, bakeries, and more. Every morning the deal of the day is announced through Facebook, Twitter, the iPhone app, email newsletter and the LivingSocial Deals site.

NetWitness Corporation - NetWitness Corporation is the world leader in a new and critical network security product category called “network forensics” by Gartner. NetWitness was formed in early 2006 in response to a vision on the part of its founders of the impending market need within both government and commercial enterprises to cope with the onslaught of sophisticated and damaging network-based attacks. On a daily basis, these organizations continue to fall victim to advanced threats and complex penetrations from state-sponsored and organized criminal groups. NetWitness provides a unique, patented, and groundbreaking software solution based on network traffic recording and real-time network forensics offering enterprise information security teams the capability to gain deep situational awareness into these attacks before they can cause irreparable damage.

PointAbout - PointAbout is changing the economics behind the world of mobile applications. PointAbout’s AppMakr web service is doing for mobile what YouTube did for video: Allowing anyone to quickly and easily publish content through a new distribution channel with an enormous reach. AppMakr allows both individuals and companies to quickly mobilize the content they’re already publishing, such as RSS & XML feeds, APIs and HTML content.
